

7 POINTS

every Reseller should know about Database Updates

7 POINTS

every Reseller should know about Database Updates

Search Engines have eased our search process today. All you have to do is type your requirement and voila, you have a long running list of solutions. Even if you are looking for an updated database, you will find an answer. But, there is nobody to guarantee the quality of these data lists. It could be available at dirt cheap price or even free at times, but who takes the responsibility of its effectiveness... well none!

Becoming a Reseller for a database is a very dicey task, as your ability would be judged based on someone else's product. However, with certain caution and precautionary measures, your journey as a Reseller could turn out to be more rewarding than any other.

Listed below are 7 points every Reseller should know about database updates, before signing up for any Reseller program

1 Know your Data lists provider

While purchasing a database or even planning on signing up as a Reseller, be sure that you are associating with the best in the industry. Always purchase it from a reputed company, whose main product or services revolve around data lists. B2Bdatapartners is one such reputed and trusted name where you can invest even without a second thought.

2 Know your Data List provider's strategy

Every company follows certain strategy while updating the database. Before signing up, put in some efforts in understanding the strategy used. The process could be as simple as checking their website. B2Bdatapartners implements some of the most effective and professional steps like email and phone verification strategies added with guaranteed assurance.

3 Know your access to Data Lists

Time is money today and being a Reseller, you certainly can't spend hours of your time in checking the samples of database. With B2Bdatapartners, you get an opportunity to check the quality of the data online. With Free trials, and various offers, you can check the quality before investing on the same.

4 Know the database update frequency

Database decays as often as every month and the effectiveness of it drops down almost every month. It is important for a Reseller to know how frequently the data lists provider updates his database. B2Bdatapartners regularly updates its database which is hosted in real time on the website.

5 Customized data solutions

Each individual has a specific requirement and catering to every individual with effectiveness is what matters the most. Every Reseller should have the liberty of seeking database as per his current requirement. A company which can provide you with customized data solutions is what a Reseller needs to succeed.

6

Cost effective

Database updating is an extremely tedious process which requires professionals and a huge amount of dedicated resources. However, when you indulge in a tie up with an established data lists providers, you can vouch on their name to set up your company. The investment is pittance when compared to the returns an updated database can yield.

7

Reseller partnership programs

B2Bdatapartners offer customizable partnership programs based on your business size and scope. You can offer more value to your customers by partnering with B2Bdatapartners. They offer few packages where you can resell any of their services/products to your customers. You can either add B2Bdatapartners services to your repertoire or start a new business as their exclusive reseller.

Need Help ?
Contact us

